Contract of Agreement – Lab copy

You may expect from us:

- 4 units of laboratory research units (Psy 197) for each quarter
- Letter of recommendation from Dr. Rosenblum
- Experience working in a laboratory for your resume
- Scientific training in experimental methodology and analysis
- Access to lab resources
- Guidance on individual psychology projects
- For those who have great progress and aptitude an individual project that may become a senior honors thesis

We expect from you:

- Approximately 8 – 12 hours per week of in-lab work
- Attendance at a weekly lab meeting (1-2 hours) to be determined at the beginning of each quarter
- Bring a schedule to lab meetings to sign-up for computer time, subject-running time, etc.
- Fulfilling lab responsibilities: word processing, subject running, video and computer editing, stimuli recording, data scoring, data entry, maintaining protocol procedures, lab maintenance, and library assignments.
- Complete a minimum of 3 quarters of research, pending approval from Dr. Rosenblum and the graduate students at the end of each quarter.
- You may be dismissed at any point during a quarter if you are not meeting your responsibilities; you will not receive credit for any partial quarters.
- Contact the graduate student or Dr. Rosenblum if something unusual occurs in the laboratory or with an experiment (e.g., missing equipment, subjects missing trials, lost sign-up sheets).

I understand and agree to comply with the above:
